1 Introduction

The purpose of this section is to provide an overview of key information relating to the Airside Civil and Pavement Works package for Western Sydney International to enable interested parties to register for the EOI.

1.1 Western Sydney International

Western Sydney International will provide much-needed additional aviation capacity to meet the growing demand in the Sydney basin and improve access to flights for people in Western Sydney. One of Australia's most significant infrastructure projects in decades, the international and domestic airport will open in 2026. The initial development of Western Sydney International involves delivery of a single 3.7-kilometre runway, terminal and airport facilities to provide for up to 10 million annual passengers.

1.2 WSA

In August 2017, the Commonwealth established WSA Co Limited (WSA), a Government Business Enterprise constituted under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and operating under the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (Cth), to deliver and operate Western Sydney International.

WSA is wholly owned by the Commonwealth. The Commonwealth will invest up to $5.3 billion for the construction of Western Sydney International. Further details regarding WSA, including details in relation to the chairman and board, can be found online at the WSA website (www.wsaco.com.au).

1.3 Planning and Regulatory context

Development of Western Sydney International is subject to a Commonwealth environment and development approvals framework under the Airports Act 1996 (Cth) (Airports Act). The Airports Act provides for the development of an 'Airport Plan' for Western Sydney International that provides the overarching development approval.

The Airport Plan, which was determined in December 2016, permits the carrying out of the Stage 1 Development specified in the Airport Plan without the need for a major development plan or master plan. The conditions set out in Part 3 of the Airport Plan must be complied with in the planning, construction and operation of Western Sydney International. The Airport Plan is publicly available online via the WSA website.

A pre-condition to determination of the Airport Plan was finalisation of an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). In preparing the EIS, the Commonwealth undertook a comprehensive study of the environmental, social and economic impacts that Western Sydney International could potentially have on the Airport Site and surrounding areas. The EIS identifies a number of mitigation measures to be implemented in order to minimise the impacts of the development of Western Sydney International. The EIS is also publicly available online via the WSA website.

All Interested Parties will be expected to inform themselves of the conditions and requirements of the Airport Plan and EIS to facilitate the preparation of high-quality tenders.

1.3.1 Airport Building Controller

Because Western Sydney International is to be developed in accordance with the Airports Act requirements, the Airside Civil and Pavement Works will require approval from the "Airport Building Controller" and the submission requirements under law are outlined in the Airports (Building Control) Regulations 1996 (Cth). For the purposes of that regulation, WSA is the "airport-lessee company."

1.4 Airport Site

Western Sydney International will be developed on around 1,700 hectares of Commonwealth-owned land at Badgerys Creek in Western Sydney (Airport Site). The Airport Site is approximately 50 kilometres from Sydney's central business district.

The Airport Site is bounded by Elizabeth Drive to the north, Willowdene Avenue to the south, Luddenham and Adams Road to the west and Badgerys Creek to the east. The existing terrain is made up of undulating topography, and substantial earthworks are required to create a level surface to allow construction.

The Airport Site is owned by the Commonwealth and is leased to WSA for the purpose of developing and operating Western Sydney International under an airport lease (Airport Lease). The Airport Site location is illustrated in Figure 1-1.

1.5 Procurement approach

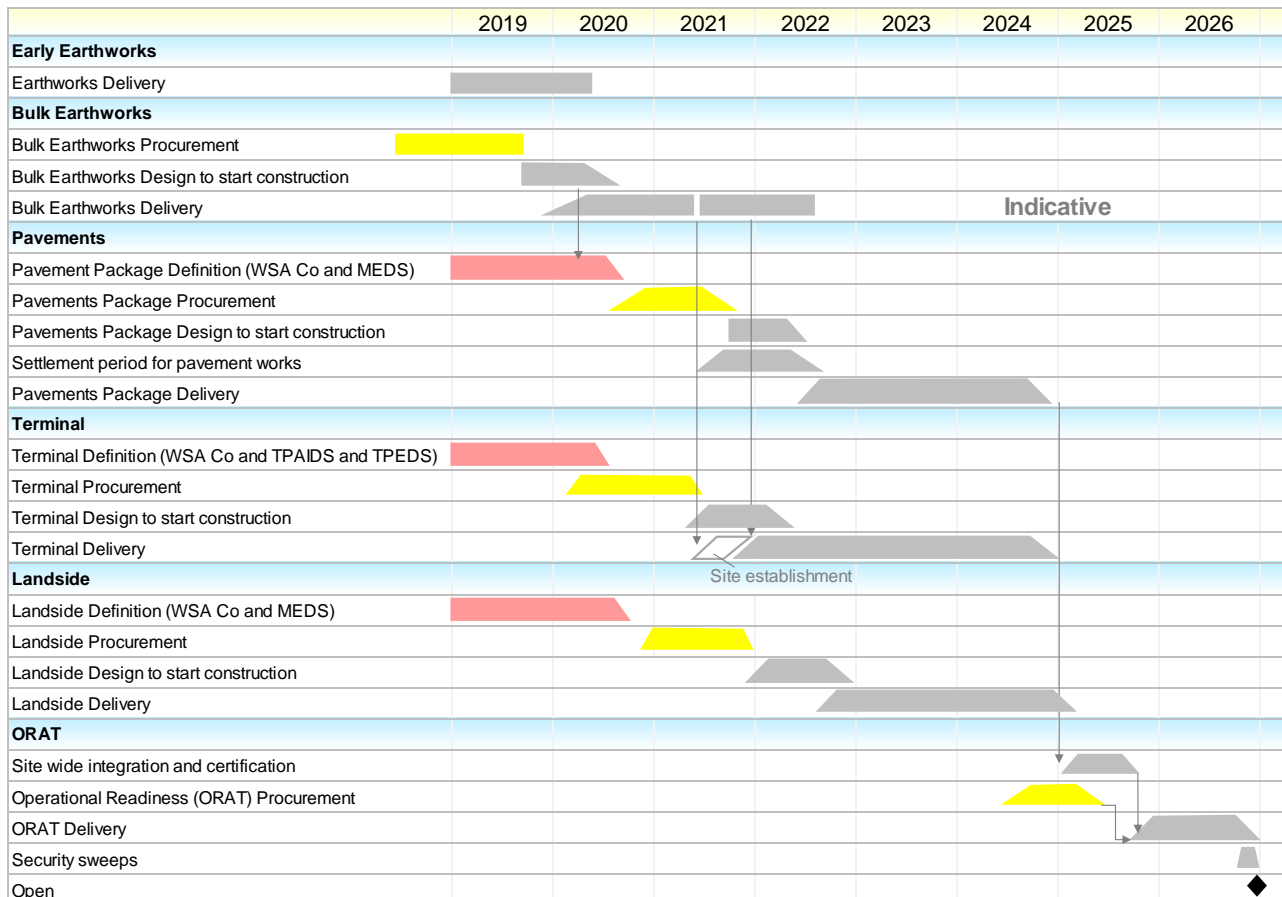

The current main works procurement packaging strategy for the delivery of Western Sydney International is:

- Bulk Earthworks package – design and construction of airport platform, including design for the master grading, bulk earthworks and trunk drainage and associated construction activities;
- Airside Civil and Pavement Works package – design and construction of the airside services and utilities (including runway and taxiway pavements, aircraft pavement markings, airside roads, surface water drainage, aeronautical ground lighting systems, airside security fence and landscaping;
- Terminal and Specialty Works package – design and construction of the terminal building and precinct (including specialty sub-packages such as the baggage handling system (BHS), security systems (including access control measures), information technology architecture and network, aerobridges and lifts and escalators), the full aprons, including potential freight apron, the terminal forecourt and the terminal approach roads back to and including the first set of roundabouts and the on-grade car parks; and

- (d) Landside Civil and Building Works package – design and construction of all landside works including the access and internal roads, bridges, car parks (covered and uncovered – except those included in the Terminal and Specialty Works package), utilities and various ancillary buildings (e.g. water/wastewater facility, access control point facility, offices, maintenance facilities and mechanical workshops).

An indicative program for the delivery of these works is provided in Figure 1-2.

Note: MEDS = Master Engineer Design Services; TPAIDS = Terminal Precinct Architecture and Interior Design Services; TPEDS = Terminal Precinct Engineering Design Services

The indicative approach and program do not identify all activities relating to the development of Western Sydney International and are provided for guidance only. For example, other third party works that will be undertaken concurrently to these main works packages, such as road and rail connections to the airport site, Commonwealth agency works (e.g. Border Force and the Australian Federal Police), cargo facilities and business park works, are not included in the indicative program. No obligations are imposed on WSA to proceed with any works or processes on stated dates or otherwise.

2 Airside Civil and Pavement Works package

2.1 Scope overview

A contractor is to be selected and appointed to perform the design and construction of the airside civil and pavement works. The current scope of this package, subject to finalisation, includes:

- (a) a flexible runway pavement 3700m long by 45m, plus runway shoulders and blast pads, RESAs (Runway End Safety Area);
- (b) access and exit taxiways and 4 rapid exit taxiways (RET) pavements, parallel taxiway pavements and aircraft isolation pad;
- (c) engine run-up bay including acoustic walling, tie down points and local control room;
- (d) aeronautical ground lighting (AGL) for CAT IIIB operations including 2 aerodrome lighting equipment rooms (ALER);
- (e) high intensity approach lights;
- (f) aircraft pavement markings;
- (g) movement area signs for aircraft;
- (h) airside security fence, including security lighting and CCTV along fence;

- (c) aviation fuel distribution system;
- (d) ARFFS (Aircraft Rescue and Fire Fighting) facilities; and
- (e) navigational aids such as localiser, glide path, DME (Distance Measuring Equipment), FFM (Far Field Monitor).

2.2 Reference design

A detailed reference design and performance specifications are being developed by WSA's Master Engineer for the Airside Civil and Pavement Works package and WSA intends to release these documents with the RFT documents to aid the tenderers' understanding of WSA's delivery requirements. The responsibility for developing a detailed design that complies with the requirements of the Airside Civil and Pavement Works contract and any risks associated with reliance on the reference design or other reference materials will rest with the contractor. Tenderers' concept designs will be developed and submitted as part of the RFT process and that submission will form the basis of future design works.

2.3 Interfaces

Given the concurrent delivery of works by contractors highlighted in Figure 1-2, there will be multiple interfaces for the works. WSA's intention is to establish a commercial framework which requires all contractors to focus not only on their specific scope of works but on the impacts and outcomes across all work packages, taking a best for project perspective.

Key interface areas and parties relevant to the scope of this works include but not limited to:

- (a) the Bulk Earthworks package (as described in Section 1.5(a) above);
- (b) the Terminal and Specialty Works package (as described in Section 1.5(c) above);
- (c) the Landside Civil and Building Works package (as described in Section 1.5(d) above);
- (d) works for the supply of aviation fuel;
- (e) works carried out by Airservices Australia, including ARFFS facilities, nav aids and air traffic control tower;
- (f) works carried out by WSA's other contractors for ancillary works (including in relation to the cargo facility);
- (g) works carried out by Transport for New South Wales (e.g. in relation to road and rail connections to the airport site); and
- (h) authorities responsible for utility services (e.g. Transgrid, Endeavour Energy, Sydney Water, Telstra etc.).

2.4 Procurement process

WSA will procure the Airside Civil and Pavement Works package contractor for the Project via a three-stage competitive process consisting of:

- (a) ROI (this process);
- (b) EOI process, with successful registrants from the ROI process; and
- (c) RFT process, with tenderers shortlisted from the EOI process.

The indicative timeline for this three-stage procurement process is provided in the Information for Interested Parties on page 2.

2.4.1 Collaborative process

WSA recognises that a collaborative RFT process will facilitate the development of high-quality and well-considered tenders. Accordingly, it is anticipated that a collaborative RFT process will be undertaken which will provide the opportunity for tenderers to participate in structured interactive sessions including briefings, site inspections and positive guidance sessions with WSA, including collaboration with WSA's technical and commercial teams. This process will be designed to:

- (a) facilitate two-way communication between WSA and the tenderers;
- (b) ensure that the tenderers are aligned with WSA's project objectives;
- (c) ensure that tenderers have a clear understanding of the works;
- (d) facilitate a collaborative approach to the identification of project risks and the development of technical and commercial solutions to remove or mitigate these risks;
- (e) provide a forum for addressing design development to ensure alignment with WSA's requirements;
- (f) allow WSA to provide feedback to tenderers in relation their proposed technical and commercial solutions throughout the RFT process;
- (g) expedite the finalisation of contracts through discussion of proposed contractual issues and contractual documents prior to the lodgement of tenders; and

(h) facilitate an early understanding of specific pricing elements of the tender.

2.4.2 Procurement expectations

At different stages of this procurement process, Interested Parties will be expected to meet set criteria and provide supporting information that details the Interested Parties' compliance or their approach to delivering the works (as applicable) to enable a thorough evaluation process prior to award. The criteria to be met and approaches sought may include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Compliance with the Code for the Tendering and Performance of Building Work;
- (b) Accreditation in accordance with the Work Health and Safety Accreditation Scheme;

WSA will be seeking feedback from the market on the delivery strategy including scope of works and commercial structure. The successful registrants may be invited to participate in one-on-one sessions to discuss this further and provide feedback prior to release of the EOI. WSA will also be seeking information from tenderers on innovation and efficiencies that may improve the program.
